

BULGARIAN WAR TALK IS LESS NOW, AND TROOPS ARE READY

The Mobilization of the First Line of Bulgarian Reserves Has Quieted the People.

MASSACRE TALK

Dead at Kastoria Are Now Reported To Be From Seventy to Three Thousand.

(Special By Scripps-McLain.) Sofia, Sept. 19.—Mobilization of the first line of Bulgarian reserves is nearly completed. This movement of the troops had the effect of calming the people and the clamor for war is not so loud as it has been. In addition to this the reports that the powers are likely to intervene and put an end to the massacre had a quieting effect. Reports from Kastoria, where it is said the Turks killed all the inhabitants still is contradictory. Reports on hand estimate the dead all the way from seventy to 3,000.

The route was lined by troops.

PALMA SPEAKS DESPITE PANIC

Crowd at Santiago Are Much Disturbed Over Discharge of a Policeman's Weapon—Many Hurt

Santiago, Cuba, Sept. 19.—During a speech made by President Palma in front of the palace this evening the people became excited because the crowds were forced back by the police. A rifle in the hands of a sergeant of the rural guards was discharged, by accident it was claimed, and this caused a panic. A few persons were slightly hurt. Order was soon restored. The president was enthusiastically received.

STRIKE TYING UP THE SHIPPING

Long Shoremen at New Orleans Now Refuse To Accept Any Settlement.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 19.—The commerce of the port was again tied up today by a strike of the longshoremen, which has been revived. Not a ship is being loaded. A contract between the ship agents and the longshoremen was signed Monday, which it was believed, settled the strike permanently. The rank and file of the longshoremen now refuse to abide by the contract and accuse their committee, who brought about Monday's settlement, of treachery.

WHITEHEAD HITS THE GOVERNOR

Tells a Fond du Lac Fair Audience Facts About the Last Two Legislatures That Are Interesting.

From telegraphic dispatches from Fond du Lac Senator Whitehead yesterday spoke to twenty-five hundred persons at the Fond du Lac county fair. Not only did he address them, but he also gave them good solid facts that made a decided impression on his hearers and set new thoughts on their brains. The senator spoke extemporaneously from notes.

The Address. The address given was in part similar to the one delivered at Beloit on Wednesday night. He opened by paying high tribute to the patriotism of the state. He then went into the subject matter of his address by taking the governor to task for having spoken as he did of the senators and members of the last legislature who opposed his plans. He said:

"The stalwarts were in control of the last senate, and I am proud of it. This senate passed every single bill that was recommended by the state tax commission, and yet our friends talk about their obstruction of tax measures! How utterly ignorant and misinformed he is about tax legislation.

Followed Message. "This same senate also passed bills to carry out all the recommendations of the governor in his biennial message relating to taxation, and the acts are now on the statute books. How ridiculous are such statements then. It is due to the literature that has been circulated about the state, and to the misrepresentations of the legislature, that come from a high quarter. It is your business to find out how much truth there is in such a statement as the one I have just read, no matter who makes it, where it comes from, or when it is uttered.

The Law. "You would be led to think from that statement that every proposition that was made to the senate by the governor was rejected. Newspapers charge the senators with seeking revenge. I hold in my hand extracts from the legislative record which show that every appointment made by the governor at the last two sessions was confirmed by that body without a dissenting vote. Talk to me of revenge when the governor exercises his prerogative in making appointments when they were all confirmed and the men he named are serving the state by the favor of the senate!"

Strong Address. The speech was a strong one which was well received by his listeners. It was filled with facts and left an impression on the minds of the audience that perhaps the governor was not entirely right in all his statements.

ARE UNFRIENDLY

Central Labor Union, of Washington, Has Sent the President a Letter, Which Will Not Be Answered by Him, Beyond Announcing Its Arrival.

(Special By Scripps-McLain.) Oyster Bay, Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt has received a set of unfriendly resolutions from the Central Labor Union of Washington and has sent the secretary of the organization a formal reply which is merely to the effect that he received the communication. It is not probable he will vouchsafe any further answer to the union but he will undoubtedly take some measures to counteract the effect of the agitation. It may be stated emphatically and almost officially that Roosevelt will not accede to the demands of the union to dismiss Wm. Miller, the foreman of the bindery of the government printing office. Among the suggestions made by his friends who are anxious to counteract the influence of the Washington union's resolution, it has been suggested some other labor body equally powerful declare its friendliness for him and the confidence of his official acts.

The porte is especially reluctant to grant the demand for recognition of colleges as hotbeds of revolution.

ATTORNEY GETS ESTATE OF DECEASED CLIENT

Administrator Named by Court Is Unable to Find Any Property Not in Hands of the Lawyer.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—The sheriff is looking for Attorney Samuel T. Mock. Judge Carpenter ordered that Mock be brought into court, but the officers made return that Mock was in California.

Interesting testimony taken before Judge Carpenter caused him to refuse to probate the will of Charles Winterfield, who ignored his heirs and left $125,000 to Attorney Mock. Members of the Winterfield family who were ignored in the will testified that Mr. Winterfield was in an unbalanced condition at the time he signed it and the witnesses to the will testified that they did not know what they were signing and they did not think Mr. Winterfield did either.

Mr. Winterfield had another will drawn besides the one contested, but it cannot be found. The Citizens' Trust company, which has been made administrator of the estate, cannot find any property which is not in the hands of Mock.

COLORADO IS MUCH DISTURBED OVER CRIPPLE CREEK TROUBLE

METHODISTS AT GREEN BAY MEET

Clerical and Lay Delegates Are Chosen for the Conference in Los Angeles Next May.

At Green Bay the Wisconsin annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday elected the following delegates, lay and clerical, to the general conference which will be held in Los Angeles next May. This conference meets once in four years.

Clerical—H. S. Leach, Milwaukee; George H. Trever, Whitewater; Dr. Milton S. Terry, Evanston. Lay—Willis W. Cooper, Kenosha; E. A. Edmunds, Rhinelander; H. A. Larsen, Waupaca; Emmet R. Hicks, Oshkosh; alternates, Leander Ferguson, Brandon; John Moss, Milwaukee; A. J. Rich, Horicon; William Larsen, Green Bay.

Welcome Lay Members. At the meeting yesterday afternoon the lay delegates who were, in Green Bay were welcomed at the clerical conference. They were welcomed by Bishop Foss and were given seats in the center of the hall. There were a hundred lay delegates at the conference and about twenty-five ladies were also present. During the meetings the women's foreign missions and the women's home missions both held interesting sessions.

Conference Trustees. The conference trustees re-elected their officers and three new members were added, the Revs. Perry Millar and J. H. Tippetts, and Rev. William Larsen of Green Bay, at the suggestion of the treasurer, E. M. Booth, he will furnish bonds to the extent of over $10,000, the trustees paying the expense of the security. Since the loss of the New England conference of $75,000 through the absconding treasurer, who had given no bonds, the church societies are beginning to require bonds as a measure of safety. The trustees ordered $1,227 paid to the conference stewards, to be used for the support of the worn out preachers. The trustees are justly proud of this dividend as the returns from their investment of a little over $40,000 which they hold in trust for the conference claimants.

Lost His Coat. The Rev. E. S. McChesney, presiding elder of the Janesville district, is in trouble and ceases not to speak of it at every session. A new overcoat laid across the back of a pew was taken and Dr. McChesney received in this unexpected trade a much worn and shabby coat, many sizes too large for him.

The ministers and lay delegates have filled the homes and hotels to overflowing. Last night not a few delegates found difficulty in getting even a cot to sleep on, and every hotel had all its bedding in use. The crowded condition prevails again tonight and that delegate is happy in considering himself a wise man who secured a room in advance.

STATE NOTES

The Kenosha Water company has issued a notice that the last of the second mortgage bonds owed by the company would be paid next month. This will leave the company an indebtedness of $100,000.

Because she refused him dinner John Mahoney of Wilton stabbed Mrs. Ellen Harrington in the neck, and was standing over her with the knife when help came to the woman. He has disappeared.

A special election held at Phillips to determine the amount of license fee to be paid by brewers and saloon keepers resulted in a majority of nineteen votes in favor of $500, instead of the present fee of $200.

William Barber, alias William Smith, who was sentenced from Kenosha to the Green Bay reformatory for a term of five years, escaped last Tuesday night and Kenosha officers have been asked to assist in the search for him.

A burglar who entered W. A. Brown's residence at Marinette and was frightened away by the alarm of a hired girl, appeared at the house the following day and warned the maid that he was going to kill her for "squealing" on him.

A niece of Dr. Mac Reid, the Racine woman who claimed she was a victim of burglars in Milwaukee a year ago, and who is in prison at Rochester, N. Y., serving a term of two and one-half years for arson, has made application for Dr. Reid's pardon, and an effort is being made to get letters of recommendation from Racine citizens.

It is reported that Grace Snell Coffin, daughter of Amos Snell, the murdered Chicago millionaire, is making another effort to get possession of her home at Grass Lake; that the title to the place is now vested in relatives and will be turned over to Mrs. Coffin as soon as the mortgages have been discharged. Mrs. Coffin has already filed a discharge for one of the largest mortgages.

Six cows belonging to John Dark, a farmer living near Coleman, ate a quantity of dynamite which had been left in the field. All but one of them died.

General Chase Holds City Under Martial Law, and Ignores Court Writs Entirely.

ARREST LEADERS

Importation of Non-Union Workmen from Michigan and Wisconsin Angers Everyone.

(Special By Scripps-McLain.) Denver, Sept. 19.—The arrest of the leaders of the miners' union by the militia continues and all arrested are thrown into the bullpen and kept incommunicado. The wholesale arrests and the importation of non-union miners from Michigan and Wisconsin has aroused the public feeling against the militia and many are openly expressing sympathy for the strikers. Gen. Chase still refuses to release the men who have secured writs of habeas corpus on the ground of martial law exists and civil law is inoperative.

MAY NOT REVISE THE WAR RULES

Failure of All Powers To Name Delegates to Congress Responsible.

Paris, Sept. 19.—Unofficial but reliable information has been received here to the effect that the proposed congress of the powers, for the purpose of revising the Geneva convention, establishing the rights and treatment of prisoners of war, neutrals, wounded, etc., which was to have taken place shortly, probably will be postponed indefinitely. France, Great Britain, Italy, Austria, and Russia named delegates, but Germany has not named a delegate, as it is understood that she does not desire any change in the present status of prisoners, etc., during a state of belligerency. Therefore, in the absence of a general international acceptance of the proposal to revise the rules of war, the meeting of the congress practically has been given up.

GEMS HELD FOR THE STOLEN DUTY

Employee at the General Appraiser's Stores Accused of Thefts, by Officials.

New York, Sept. 19.—Alfred Hausbeck, an employee of the general appraiser's stores, was arrested here today, charged with the theft of imported jewels, which were being held for appraisal of duty. William Bray and George H. Plant, New York jewelers, who were arrested while offering the stolen goods for sale, declared that they had purchased them from Hausbeck. The latter has been employed at the appraiser's stores for seventeen years.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Announcement was made today at the war department that one group of general staff officers has been designated for duty as attaches abroad, and will be given special instructions in the military information division prior to their departure. The following are designated as attaches: Captains Sydney A. Cloman, Twenty-third infantry; William G. Hahn, artillery corps; Horace N. Reeve, Third infantry, and Dennis E. Nolan, Thirtieth infantry.

The present scheme is to utilize half of the general staff in Washington and to distribute the other half among the various department headquarters and on special duty elsewhere.

EGYPT'S PART IN SACRED TENTH

FOURTH LETTER BY REV. LANS-
DELL ON ANCIENT CUSTOMS,

HE TELLS OF THE CUSTOMS

An Interesting Story of the Days of the Ramesses in Old Times.

This is the fourth letter of Rev. Dr. Lansdell relating to the Sacred Tenth of antiquity. He takes up for this week's letter the Egyptian tithes and the manner in which they were set aside for the use of the priests and the heathen dieties.

Egyptian War Tithes
There was another source of income, in addition to those already mentioned, by means of which the ancient Egyptians recognized their dependence on the deity, in presenting sometimes the whole, but normally a portion, of their spoils taken in war. Maspero, speaking of Egyptian organization, says: "The conqueror as a rule did not retain any part of their territory. He confined himself to the appropriation of the revenues of certain domains for the benefit of his gods." This is illustrated by a statement of Dr. Brugsch, when, speaking of the feasts of Amon at Thebes, in the eighteenth dynasty, or about 1700 years B. C., he says: "By order of the king, the three cities of Anu-gas (Jenysu), Im'amu (Jama?), and Harinocola (Khinocola) were assigned to the domain of this god to pay yearly to his temple; the taxes laid upon them."

Under Ramesses
Again, of Ramesses III, about 1200 B. C., Brugsch adds: "The rich spoil which the king carried off in his campaigns from the captured cities and the conquered peoples, enabled him to enrich most lavishly with gifts, not only the sanctuaries in Thebes, but also the temples of Heliopolis, Memphis, and other places in Egypt, to adorn them with buildings in his name which are called 'Ramesses', and to devote the prisoners of war as slaves to the holy service of the gods in upper and lower Egypt."

Spoils in War
To this information concerning spoils in war Maspero adds that the portion given to the gods was a tenth of the whole. Thus: "The gods of the side which was victorious shared with it in the triumph, and received a tithe of the spoil as the price of their help." Once more, speaking of Akmosis, a military leader in the time of the last Pharaoh who went to battle in person, Maspero says: "A revival of military greatness was followed by an age of building activity. Claims of the gods had to be satisfied before those of men, etc."

A tenth therefore of the slaves, cattle, and precious metals was set apart for the service of the gods, and even fields, towns, and provinces were allotted to them, the produce of which was applied to enhance the importance of their cult or to repair and enlarge their temples."

Dr. Budge
Again, in a short conversation I had on the subject with Dr. Budge, superintendent of the Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities in the British Museum, he seemed to doubt concerning Egypt whether the gifts to the temples, represented a definite proportion of income. He thought they amounted to more than a tenth, and seemed quite convinced that in constantly and regularly occurring festivals it was obligatory—by custom, if not by law—to make offerings to the priests.

Prof. Mahaffy
One more testimony is that of Professor Mahaffy, who wrote to me: "I am no authority on Assyrian matters, and cannot tell you about tithes there. But in Egypt one-sixth seems to have been the 'gods' portion, levied upon all property not specifically exempted." Similarly the Professor says, in his History of Egypt under the Ptolemaic Dynasty, "the landed property, and the orchards and vineyards of all Egypt (with certain exceptions), paid a duty to the gods of the nearest temple amounting to one-sixth of the yearly crop."

Summarize Evidence
If then, we summarize the evidence presented in this and our previous article, it would appear that as the giving of a tenth to the gods was a well established practice in Assyria and western Asia, so in Egypt we trace back nearly four thousand years the giving of firstfruits to the deity, and making offerings of certainty not less than a tenth, but seemingly, in many cases, of a sixth.

The Sixth
And if this proportion of a sixth be considered large, it does not appear so when compared with the demands made of the devotees of Pagan religions elsewhere. In correspondence, the late Sir Monier Williams, professor of Sanskrit at Oxford, having referred me to passages of Sanskrit law, especially the Code of Manu, the oldest compendium of the laws of the Brahmans, pointed out that the usual proportion of produce taken by the king was a sixth part, but that in cases of necessity he might take one-fourth of the crop.

Thus far then, we see that what was paid and given for religious purposes by the ancients of western Asia and Egypt, compares very favorably with what is given for religious purposes by the Anglo-Saxon race throughout the world. But we have yet to consider the giving among the Greeks and Romans.

ANOTHER FASHION LETTER ON DRESS

Marie Marne Writes From London for the Gazette Readers,

Marie Marne has written another letter on styles for the Gazette. This letter is from London and her next will be from Paris. Miss Marne offers to answer any questions which readers of the Gazette may desire to ask on dress.

Surely fashions were never before so picturesque and charming as those the West End Modistes indicate will be the prevailing modes for the coming winter.

The striking features of last season's modes are being developed along the lines to which we have given our approval, and each day sees some new and clever adaptation of these general ideas, translated into heavier materials.

There is a rumor that the severely tailored street frock will forge ahead once more, but the dressy creations which the French dress-makers call a tailor-gown will still be needed for more formal wear, and it is a well defined certainty that lines drawn between gowns for varying occasions are more than ever distinct but whether selecting material for a walking costume or a gown of more pretentious nature the up-to-date girl can make no mistake—so say the leading London Modistes—in choosing a Nonpareil velvet which is exceedingly smart and universally becoming. Dyed by the famous Worralls J. & J. M. each new development of this fabric is a quarter and more Old World like in its suggestion than the last. Brown particularly in the dark shades but ranging all the way to lightest fawn; is prominent and foliage green and clear emerald shades are all in evidence.

But of course nothing is hand-comer in Nonpareil than black of which the Worth model evening gown worn by Miss Ethel Barrymore which I have illustrated for you is made. It is a Princess model exquisitely fitting the most striking feature being a broad draped girde effect which effect by the way is a point in regard to which many dress makers make a prodigious blunder. The Parisian artist understands that loosely fitting girde or belt showing no strain and apparently quite capable of being drawn tighter without inconvenience to the wearer is if worn over a properly fitting corset preferably the C. B. A. la Spirit far more likely to give an air of slenderness to the figure than a tightly strained cinchure.

In trimming nothing startlingly new is announced so far although it is confidently asserted that cut out appliques embroideries of all sorts and lace will be much used.

Pure white it is said will be less popular but this is to be taken with a grain of salt as with smoky London the wish may be father to the thought; however Bond street dresses are promising great vogue for all the off colour whites—oyster mushroom breadcrumb etc.

It is long since the millinery world has scored such success as it has done this season with the Breton Sailor hat and the pink chiffon one with a plume drooping over the brim in curling tips made for a popular London actress will certainly give impetus to this pretty fashion as actresses have a great deal to do with launching new modes in London as well as New York and Paris. MARIE MARNE.

LAST MEETING OF THIRD WIS.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM AT CITY HALL LAST EVENING.

REV. DENISON GIVES ADDRESS

Those Who Entertained and Others,
Given Badges and Made Honorary Members.

The thirtieth reunion of the Third Wisconsin Volunteer regiment came to a very successful close at the meeting held in the assembly room in the city hall last evening. A fair sized audience was present and over forty of the members of the regiment. The evening was taken up with a delightful program, which was begun by the president, Col. E. O. Kimberley, who said a few words of welcome and by request presented his address which was read at the business session in the morning. In his talk he reviewed the work of the association during the past year and the prospect of the future. Following this was Mayor Wilson's address of welcome. In referring to the war, he said that it had been a "war for the mastery of intellect as well as for the supremacy of the cause." The mayor welcomed the veterans to the city on behalf of the citizens. J. F. Carle

The response to the mayor's address was made by Comrade J. F. Carle who spoke of the hospitality of the citizens of Janesville and of the pleasant time his comrades had enjoyed while here. In his talk, he outlined the battles that the regiment had fought and the course it had taken. During the time that the brave regiment was in service it was engaged in twenty-five battles and lost over two hundred and eighty-three men. In his address he told of the incidents, humorous and otherwise, that had occurred to some of the boys and that many of the men remembered now. The next number of the program was a song by Mrs. Gertrude Winbiger, who sang "Sherman's March to the Sea" in a delightful manner and when forced to respond to an encore sang, "Little Boy in Blue." Mrs. J. B. Day then read the story of "Patrick Murphy," the last of the Confederate army of northern Virginia.

The story of the famous Irishman was told in a charming manner and for an encore, Mrs. Day read James Whitcomb Riley's sweet, but pathetic story, "The Old Man and Jim." Mr. Kildow, the cornetist, accompanied by Miss Spaulding, then gave two pleasing selections which were especially appreciated by the members of the old Third.

Denison's Address

The address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. R. C. Denison which held the attention of all from beginning to end. In an entertaining way he told of incidents and stories of the war both humorous and pathetic and spoke of the value of memory. That it was, like a good name and peace of mind, a thing that money could not buy and that it was something that every soldier was glad to have possession of. He said that one of the saddest things that had happened at the present time was the fact that the government had reached a climax and from now on would decrease instead of growing larger as in the past, showing that the ranks of the boys of the sixties were yearly becoming thinner, and that the American boy, when he could no longer see the form of the old civil war veteran upon the streets, had lost much, for the veteran of this struggle was the "finest memorial ever built to patriotism and love of country." That the men of the northern armies had saved the past and the future. Mr. Denison considered that the grandest victory after the winning of the rebellion was the fact that the thousands who returned, "marched back still men," going to their homes and former employments and that in this was the "finest moral lesson in all human history." He suggested that at some national encampment, the survivors of the civil war should as a returned and victorious army, send to The Hague Peace Tribunal a message,

"Dedicating the flag forever for peace and good will to the nations of the earth."

At the close of the address, President Kimberley upon request sang the regimental song, "Hamilton's Badger Boys." Mr. Carle thanked Mr. Denison for his talk and presented him with a badge, making him an honorary member of the regiment. In recognition of their services in carrying out the program to a most successful close, Mrs. Kimberley, Mrs. Winbiger, Mrs. J. B. Day, Miss Spaulding and Mr. Kildow were likewise made honorary members. Mrs. Edward Pratt, granddaughter of the late Gen. C. S. Hamilton, was also given the same honor.

FOR SALE SIGNS ARE WORTHLESS

Cards Do Not Accelerate Business, and Are Really Making Buyers Suspicious.

People who have given the matter any serious thought have come to the conclusion that "For Sale" signs on improved property really injure its sale, and especially is this the case where there are several signs displayed on the property. Besides this, it gives a stranger and prospective investor a kind of a chill when he strikes a street on which every other house almost has a "For Sale" sign on. He feels that if every one wants to get out of the neighborhood he is not particularly anxious to get into it and looks for, to him, more desirable sections. Experience has proved time and again that if you want to sell property to advantage list it in the For Sale column of the Gazette and keep the signs off. You get more out of it in the long run, the city presents a better appearance and there is a more contented feeling all around.

The following letter is from the firm of Daniels, Wells & Carpenter, of Chicago, with offices at the Union Stock yards, Chicago.

Cattle 41903 head received Monday, being by 5,176 head larger than the previous record for one day. The receipts for the week have been exceptionally heavy so far, being nearly 70,000 which is about 13,000 in excess of last week, consequently, prices have declined from 10c to 25c for the week so far, the greater decline being on the medium and common kinds. The prime cattle were in greater proportion today than on Monday and suffered some decline although the top today is 6c, only 15c below the top for the year so far, which shows the prime heaves are not plentiful and are commanding a fair premium. The features to our trade this week is the way in which the trade absorbed the heavy offerings Monday and the firm close to a market with such an excessive supply.

Hogs.
The receipts of hogs of this week have been below all expectations, much lower than the usual supply with such heavy marketings of cattle, consequently, we have been able to advance prices 10c to 20c on all kinds, in some cases the advance being more. Packers scored the most advance and sold mostly today from $5.75 to $6.00, those at the latter price having a narrow top to them. Heavy shippers and butchers sold mostly today from $6.00 to $6.25 with prime light weights up to $6.35. It looks as though we might hold prices for a time around present figures and, perhaps, gain a little more advance.

Sheep.
Our supply this week so far is nearly 15,000 below what we received last week and prices have advanced from 15c to 25c the last couple of days. We are likely to have liberal receipts of sheep right along now up to cold weather and prices not much different from what they are now. As the readers of this letter will not want to market natives with so many westerners coming we quote the prices at which feeders can be bought here now. Lambs, $4.25 to $4.50, wethers, $3.25 to $3.50 and yearlings $3.40 to $3.75.

Note.
The C. B. & Q. road pulled in 894 cars of stock Monday, being cars in excess of the previous record for one road which that road held.

We received Monday 2656 cars of stock, being the second high day on record. Dec. 1st, 1902 we received 2811 cars. Yours very truly, Daniels, Wells & Carpenter.

Chicago Chronicle: Amazing and disquieting hints come from South Carolina that they may hang Nephew Jim Tillman for the murder of Gonzales. In that case what could Uncle Ben do? He has already succeeded from the union several times. Would he renounce his allegiance to South Carolina likewise?

New York World: The kaiser has been talking about his duties and the weight he has to bear who is responsible for the 58,000,000 of Germans. A good way to lessen that weight would be to let the Germans carry more of it themselves, as they doubtless would be glad to do.

SPECIAL COLUMN FOR THE

CHILDHOOD SCENES.

A new playmate has been found, a little Swede girl, Freda, by name, with eyes so blue and hair so light and she's full of fun and each new thing to do. Freda's papa put her on the pony and led him into Sue's yard to feed on the new grass. Sue wanted to get on, too, but Ned showed signs of kicking so Sue changed her mind. When Freda came again to play Sue asked "Well, how's Ned, and how's his kicking, to which Freda replied "oh, he's all right; he was only making believe."

Freda has two bantam roosters that are such pets. She holds one on each hand and says "now, crow Jack", and Jack crows; "now Jim you crow" and Jim obeys. The hen and little bantams are the cutest though. They go for a walk. Mother hen chicking and chicks running here and there till the mother stops and scratches and clucks for the chicks to come and see what she has found; sometimes they find nothing, then the old hen scratches deeper, making the dirt fly and chickens too if they come too near; then such a rush again to the spot at which all look intensely and seem to find something good to eat.

It was Monday morning; Freda was washing doll clothes; Sue and Majorie had borrowed her sled and were trying to draw each other through the uncut grass. "You are so heavy said Majorie, 'get off and let me ride'; but the sled remained unmoved until Sue said 'let us both draw and just imagine there's a little girl riding; then they found the two loops in the end of the rope; each took one on her arm and the sled followed at a galloping pace.

Majorie was taking a nap by way of punishment for stepping into the tub of water with her shoes on. Sue stood by her chamber window with her pajama on, for doing the same thing; "Just taking a bath as the birds do", she said. As she looked longed out of the window it was to behold a beautiful sight—a bird's surprise party. Papa had planted a small chestnut tree on the lawn and a flock of sparrows who were busy feeding themselves in the dusky road found it and seemed to know it was something new; for one by one they came and perched upon the tree till it was all covered with birds then others seated themselves on the ground; suddenly up started one and all followed leaving the little tree a hearty welcome.

One pleasant morning Freda's brother, Olie, hitched Ned to the cart and together they drove to the woods along the river; when they returned Freda had filled her basket and Olie the front of his blouse with wild blackberries. Sue brought out the China sugar bowl and Majorie pulled some onions from the garden and such a picnic as they had in the summer house; and such looking clothes! There was a dim light in Majorie's room all night and the doctor called early but said the case was not serious.

What did the mamma say?

LITTLE BOY IS BURNED TO DEATH

Lads in Magnolia Set Barn on Fire, and Charles Weaver Loses His Life.

Charles Weaver, of Magnolia, the 3 year old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weaver, met a horrible death Friday morning by burning. He was playing with some other boys in a barn owned by Marshal Clifford, of Footville, and in some way secured a box of matches which the boys were evidently lighting about the barn and deliberately setting it on fire. Little Weaver was suffocated by the smoke and was unable to get out of the structure but his playmates escaped. He was taken out dead and badly burned. The barn was filled with hay and farming implements and tools nearly all of which were destroyed. A father and mother, five brothers and sisters are left to mourn his loss. The funeral arrangements will be given later.

Campbell, 24 Milton Ave., died at a west side hospital, Chicago, at 3:30 Thursday morning after a short illness, and his many friends will be shocked and pained to hear of his untimely death. He was born at Richland Center, Wis., Nov. 4, 1866, where he grew to manhood and was loved and esteemed by all who knew him and a general favorite with his associates. He has made his home in Chicago for the past seven years, and was an engineer for the C. M. & St. P. R. R. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Firemen, Engineers and Masons of which organization he was held in highest esteem and honor. He was of a patient, gentle and happy disposition and a good christian boy and to know him was to love him. Services will be held Sunday at 8 a. m. at Masonic hall

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Mohr of Joliet are visiting Mr. Mohr's brother, Chas. L. Mohr, and Mr. and Mrs. Bowles. Mr. and Mrs. Mohr were married in Joliet on the tenth and are now on their wedding trip. The Joliet Republican in speaking of the wedding says:

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season in Joliet was at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Saville, 1220 Benton street, yesterday afternoon. Their daughter, Miss Bertha Saville, was married to Arthur J. Mohr.

Both of the young people have grown up in Joliet, attended the city schools, are both graduates of the high school, and have been devoted workers in the Presbyterian Central church. The bride is a lovely girl, a good musician and very popular.

The groom is the son of Rev. J. W. Mohr and is a young man of the highest character. He is head book-keeper at the steel mills and secretary of the Steel Works club.

The colors at the wedding were green and white. The rooms were trimmed with smilax and carnations, and the bridal couple stood under a bell appropriately decorated.

There were some seventy-five guests. Among those outside of the city were Mrs. Edith Weather-wax, of Chillicothe, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mohr and daughters, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mohr and son of Janesville, Wis.; Miss Mary Bell Reynolds, of Hillsdale, Mich.; and Mrs. Palmer and daughters, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. McBroom of California; Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, of Geneseo, Ill.; and Rev. Mr. Smith and wife.

The opera house orchestra furnished music before and during the wedding ceremony. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the couple walked to the altar, and during the service the violin and piano selection, "Hymns and Flowers," was rendered softly and sweetly.

A birthday surprise was given Mrs. Sarah Spencer at her home on Washington street, Thursday afternoon by the members of the Women's Relief corps. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in playing cards and listening to musical selections. During the afternoon the president, Mrs. Mary Dunwiddie, presented Mrs. Spencer with a souvenir spoon which she accepted in a few well chosen words. At six o'clock a choice supper was served, and enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ford entertained in a delightful manner at their Oakland avenue home about forty of their friends. The affair was in honor of Miss Hirlinger, of Philadelphia, who has been their guest for a week or more. The evening was spent at cards. Miss Mary Bostwick winning the ladies' prize and Chas. Reynolds capturing the gentlemen's prize. Delicious refreshments were served.

Conductor and Mrs. E. G. Lowry and children and Miss Helen Popple have returned from a two weeks' visit in Clark county, with the families of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutton and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dillenbeck. They were eye witnesses of the recent cloudburst at Greenwood, and report much damage done.

Mrs. Mary Lappin and her granddaughter, Mildred Doty left today for Watertown, Wis., to attend the wedding of Mrs. Lappin's niece Miss Grace Pooler to Edward Schenck of Watertown, which takes place today.

Miss Mildred will be one of the flower girls at the wedding.

The first meeting of the 20th Century History club will be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Hall on Prospect avenue. As this is the first meeting of the season it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

Invitations are out for a card party to be given by Mrs. David Elfield and her daughter, Miss Harriet Elfield at their residence, 220 South Main street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Prof. Oscar Atwood and wife were in the city a short time today on their way to New Orleans to take up their son's work in Straight university.

About forty members of the Janesville branch of the W. C. T. U. left for Beloit yesterday afternoon to be the guests of the Beloit branch of the society.

CALENDAR AT MYERS GRAND

Sept. 21—Walker Whiteside in "We Are King."
Sept. 24—"Quincy Adams Sawyer."
Sept. 30—"The Irish Pawnbroker."
Oct. 1, 2, 3—Flora de Voss in Repertoire.

Mr. Walker Whiteside who this season is to produce a new comedy entitled "We are King" recently had occasion to visit a town in Arkansas, called Pine Bluff. What had usually passed for a theatre there burned, and an enterprising citizen determined that Pine Bluff should not be deprived of attractions already booked for the town and to that end constructed a temporary play-house out of an old livery barn. None the wiser as to the history of the new theatre, Mr. Whiteside and his coterie of players went to Pine Bluff. Mr. Whiteside demurred at the sight of the rearranged stable and as they say, "was for taking the next train out of town." But just as in front were watching a very intense love scene on the stage the whistle of a locomotive sounded down the track. Wait to go out by the doors, not for gold and precious stones. The gallery Gods broke through the shingles and slid down the roof, the parquette made a business with the clappboards of the frail erstwhile horse hotel, and within one minute not one living auditor remained indoors. But alas! it was only a foolish switch engine doing stunts with cars on the side-track.

The audience reassembled, likewise the artists and the play went on. In the last act of "Heart and Sword," four shots are supposed to be fired from a cannon. As the livery stable wouldn't furnish a bass drum for the war like shots Mr. Whiteside decided that his property man do business with a pistol. Not to have the shots sound too loudly through the auditorium it was suggested that "props" fire them out the stage door. At the critical moment he did so. Bang! bang! bang!

Hall Hickman went to Elkhorn fair Wednesday.

Miss Lota Kenyon and Mr. Bert Shields were among those who went Mrs. Belle Hall Lewis who has from Lima to the Elkhorn fair, on Thursday.

House Owner.

Letter to W. T. Vankirk, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: If you buy paint by the gallon look out for short measure. One of the paints for sale in your section has about 210 cubic inches a gallon. Takes 231 to make a real gallon. There are great businesses founded on ten per cent short.

It is queer that a man or concern will expose his or its nakedness so; but he does, and it does.

Look out. But that isn't all to look out for. Some give full measure; and cheat in the quality.

What do you paint for, the looks? or to keep your house from rotting? Both, of course.

A big hotel man painted Devoe eight years ago; was going to paint it again;—eight years is a good long time for a hotel, you know—struck a bargain; saved five cents a gallon; missed Devoe.

Poor fellow! There isn't an oz. of lead in his paint—we don't know how good or bad it is; but there isn't any lead in it.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

CURES CATARRH

"Hyomel" the Most Wonderful Cure for Catarrh Ever Discovered," Says Peoples Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy.

Do not try to cure catarrh by taking drugs into the stomach; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be cured is through a direct application that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Hyomel is the only known method of treatment that accomplishes this. It is the simplest, most pleasant, and the only absolute cure for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials have been received from the most prominent men and women in the country who have been cured by this remarkable remedy. Ministers, bankers, lawyers, even eminent physicians have given strong testimonials as to the remarkable powers of Hyomel to cure catarrh.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1.00, consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomel to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 c. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of curing catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

King's Pharmacy and Peoples Drug Co. have so much confidence in the power of Hyomel to cure catarrh, that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchasers can say that it did not help them.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth

his class were made the manager said, "You might as well stay and show, there's going to be a bully lynching in town tonight about 11 o'clock, your show will be out then and if you don't want to see the 'nig' swing, you can look at the lynching crowd and tell 'em about it up North". Upon this persuasive argument Mr. Whiteside decided to remain and net out.

It seemed that a colored man disliked the appearance of a certain popular policeman and had emphasized that dislike by shooting him, whereat the populace has risen and sworn that the coon should de-

Audience in the theatre? Abernethy. People down by the station? So foolish a question. What? 3,000 citizens swarmed about the operator, each with a gun metal 44 in his hand waiting for the coon man, when he as strung up which he wasn't, for the sheriff had sought another route and had landed him safe in Little Rock while the policeman was reported out of danger and on the high road to recovery.

Mr. Whiteside will present "We are King", in Janesville at the Myers Grand on Monday night next.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," that popular novel which has reached the phenomenal sale of 200,000 copies and is known throughout this broad land as "the best New England story ever written," has been dramatized and put on the stage in a most elaborate manner. This big production will be seen at the Myers Grand next week.

It is the fashion now to rush the dramatization of a popular novel on to the stage almost as soon as it is out, but in the case of "Quincy Adams Sawyer," the publishers of the book waited a year, refusing the most flattering offers from leading managers throughout the country, until they were assured they had the right man to dramatize the book and the right parties to produce it with the idea of holding strictly to that sweet rural charm which all readers have admired in this story. The aim has been to reproduce with great fidelity on the stage, the quaint characters and the genuine New England home spun atmosphere in which they live.

Nothing that modern stage artifice could do to give the atmosphere of realism to the scenes has been overlooked. The entire production, consisting of five big sets of beautiful and effective scenery to be seen here are the same as used in New York City during the recent famously successful run at the Academy of Music. The dramatization is said to have been very able done by Mr. Justin Adams. As might well be imagined the story of the play is as sweetly natural as the breath of the fields, the good folks who move in its scenes are real, and their honest humor and every day views of life are cheerful, while throughout the clever chain of events runs the golden thread of a unique love story. The play is to be presented by a carefully selected company of well known artists.

Mr. Whiteside was playing Prince Victor in "Heart and Sword". The stable was crowded, the audience while intent upon the play had one ear open for the whistle of the locomotive which was to bring their prey into town. The sheriff and his officers of the law planned to get the onery brute into town and into jail without any trouble but the people were onto his curves, as one man put it the language of Sherlock Holmes, "they couldn't elude 'em". HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS
AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

POTATO CROP CAUSES CONCERN

Heads of Families Fear a Famine in Tubers During the Coming Winter.

Janesville Produce Prices
Potatoes, 70c a bushel.
Cabbage, 5c to 7c.
Lettuce, 2 bunches for 5c.
Michigan celery, 25c a dozen.
Fancy sweet potatoes, 6 lbs. 25c.
Home tomatoes, 70c a bushel.
Cauliflower, 8c to 10c.
Michigan peaches, 35c to 45c a bsk.
Concord grapes, 25c a basket.
Duchess pears, 45c a peck.
California plums, 35c a basket.
Hyslop crabs, 35c a peck.
Apples, 35c a peck.

The unusually enormous price of potatoes this year is a matter of great concern to the head of the family. This is generally the time of the year when a large supply of tubers is stored in the cellar for winter use. Even at the high price for which they are selling, buyers take chances on them as a goodly share is rotten. Many housewives purchase sweet potatoes for present use. What little hope remains with the farmers for saving their potato crop has been practically destroyed by the tremendous down-pour of rain during the past few days. This excessive moisture is sure to have a disastrous effect on the yield. Many farmers will not take the trouble to dig the tubers out of the ground but will plow them under for fertilizing purposes. Fine Michigan celery is now on the market as is also Hubbard and summer squashes. Lettuce heads are quite small and retail at three heads for 5 cents. Some fancy Jersey sweet potatoes are to be had. They sell at 6 pounds for 25 cents. From present indications it is imminent that this dish will take the place of the rotting tubers. Home grown tomatoes, retailing at 70 cts. a bushel, are now on sale. It is quite evident that the lady of the house will take advantage of them for preserving.

The Michigan plums are nearly out of the market but California plums are taking their place. They are a delicious eatable and retail at 40 cents a basket. Crab apples are quite scarce this year and as a result command a big price.

"Before I commenced taking your Rexall Tablets, I was troubled with terrible pains in my stomach, and I would use boiling hot water for relief. It would sometimes give relief, but it was not permanent. There were certain things I could not eat. After taking three boxes of Rexall I began to pick up, and now I feel all right. I haven't been so well for years as I am now. I could advise all who are troubled with dyspepsia to try Rexall Tablets."—Mrs. W. F. WALDEN, 51 Groton Street, Worcester, Mass.
